[1] Certain BEA survey countries in this guide do not appear on every BEA survey. Contact BEA survey staff for additional guidance if necessary.

[2] The country fields on BEA's surveys are used generally to indicate either the location of a foreign counterparty for a trade transaction with a U.S. person or the location of a foreign parent or a foreign affiliate of a U.S. entity; in both instances, "United States" should not be selected. Exceptions are BEA's surveys of Foreign Direct Investment in the United States, in which "United States" may be selected as the country in which the ultimate beneficial owner, or UBO, of a U.S. affiliate is incorporated or organized.

The United States consists of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands and other territories and possessions, U.S. foreign trade zones, and offshore oil and gas sites. U.S. government military, diplomatic, consular, and other nonmilitary installations abroad are considered to be part of the U.S. economy, and their operations are regarded as an extension of U.S. government domestic operations.

[2] The country fields on BEA's surveys are used generally to indicate either the location of a foreign counterparty for a trade transaction with a U.S. person or the location of a foreign parent or a foreign affiliate of a U.S. entity; in both instances, "United States" should not be selected. Exceptions are BEA's surveys of Foreign Direct Investment in the United States, in which "United States" may be selected as the country in which the ultimate beneficial owner, or UBO, of a U.S. affiliate is incorporated or organized.

The United States consists of the 50 states, the District of Columbia, Puerto Rico, the U.S. Virgin Islands and other territories and possessions, U.S. foreign trade zones, and offshore oil and gas sites. U.S. government military, diplomatic, consular, and other nonmilitary installations abroad are considered to be part of the U.S. economy, and their operations are regarded as an extension of U.S. government domestic operations.
