This publication presents historical estimates of the U.S. direct investment position abroad, and of balance of payments transactions between U.S. parents and their foreign affiliates.

For 1950-76, estimates are shown for selected countries crossclassified by summary industry. Each table is repeated for each of the 27 years except for table 8, which is for 11 years:

	pages

1. For some of the years 1950-59, fees and royalties differ somewhat from those previously published. The estimates shown in this publication were derived by retabulating original worksheets, and are the most accurate available.

2. Data are available only for the years 1966-76.

Data are collected for the universe of foreign affiliates in benchmark surveys, or censuses, of U.S. direct investment abroad. Benchmark surveys were conducted for 1950, 1957, 1966, and 1977.^{3/} For benchmark years, the data in this publication, with one exception, are reported universe numbers from the benchmark surveys. The one exception is that for 1966, equity and intercompany account outflows include only the data of affiliates reported in both the benchmark survey and in BEA's quarterly sample survey. This restriction in coverage (which was also applied to data for 1977) makes the data for the benchmark year more consistent with those for the nonbenchmark years, which are the sum of reported sample data.

For nonbenchmark years, sample data are collected and, except for equity and intercompany account outflows, are linked to the universe data collected in the most recent benchmark survey. As a result of this linking (or benchmarking) process, the universe data for the benchmark year are extrapolated forward, based on the sample data, to obtain universe estimates for subsequent years.^{4/} Equity and intercompany account outflows are as reported in the sample surveys. Because of their extreme volatility and frequent sign reversals, they are not extrapolated forward.

For a benchmark year, estimates made by linking sample data to the previous benchmark survey will generally differ from data collected in the new benchmark survey, because: (1) affiliates may change industry, form of organization, or area of operation; (2) the BEA estimate of unreported transactions may not be exact; and (3) definitional changes may be instituted in the benchmark year. Table A compares estimates on the two bases for the benchmark years 1957 and 1966.

In this publication, data for 1950-65 have been aggregated into country/industry formats as similar as possible to those used for 1966-76 in the annual articles on direct investment in the Survey of Current Business (usually the August or September issues). Estimates for all years reflect the revised data presentation of items in the U.S. international transactions accounts related to direct investment, as shown and described in Part II of the June 1978 issue of the Survey. The estimates for 1966-76 for all countries having U.S. direct investment are published for the first time.

These estimates are a byproduct of a research project on long-term trends in U.S. direct investment abroad, the results of which were published in "Trends in the U.S. Direct Investment Position Abroad, 1950-79," in the February 1981 Survey. For that article, estimates were assembled from numerous sources--published and unpublished, including original worksheets--and were tabulated on as consistent a basis as possible. However, the underlying detailed data were too voluminous to publish in the article itself. Thus, they are being published here for the convenience of users.

Detailed estimates for 1979-80 linked to the 1977 benchmark survey were published in "U.S. Direct Investment Abroad in 1980," in the August 1981 issue of the Survey. Detailed estimates for 1977 and 1978 are available from BEA on request. Because the estimates for years after 1977, unlike those for years prior to 1977, are subject to further revision and are presented in a slightly different industry and country format, they are not included in this presentation.

3. Results of these surveys were published in U.S. Department of Commerce, Office of Business Economics, Direct Private Foreign Investments of the United States: Census of 1950 (Washington, D.C.: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1953); idem, U.S. Business Investments in Foreign Countries (Washington, D.C.: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1960); U.S. Department of Commerce, Bureau of Economic Analysis, U.S. Direct Investment Abroad, 1966: Final Data (Washington, D.C.: U.S. Government Printing Office, n.d.); idem, U.S. Direct Investment Abroad, 1977 (Washington, D.C.: U.S. Government Printing Office, 1981).

4. For a fuller explanation of the method used, see Technical Note in "U.S. Direct Investment Abroad in 1980," Survey of Current Business 61 (August 1981): 20-39.

Changes in Concepts, Definitions, and Coverage

Major changes in concepts, definitions, and coverage during 1950-76 are summarized below.

Classification of position in indirectly owned affiliates

Before 1966, the U.S. direct investment position in an indirectly owned affiliate was classified in the affiliate's own country and industry. A portion of the position in the directly owned affiliate through which the U.S. parent owned a given indirectly owned affiliate was attributed to the indirectly owned affiliate and "allocated" to its country and industry. After 1966, the position was, with one exception, classified instead in the country and industry of the directly owned affiliate. The exception was that any direct transactions, such as intercompany loans, of the U.S. parent with the indirectly owned affiliate continued to be classified in that affiliate's own country and industry. In a previous publication, the position for 1966 was classified both ways for purposes of comparison.^{5/} In this publication, the classification used for 1966 is the same as that used for years after 1966.

Definition of direct investment

From 1950 to 1961, direct investment was defined as: (1) ownership by a single U.S. investor (including an associated group of investors) of at least 25 percent of the voting interest in a foreign business enterprise, or (2) ownership, by several U.S. investors collectively, of at least 50 percent of the voting interest in a publicly held foreign business enterprise in which no one U.S. investor owned as much as 25 percent. In a few instances, interests of slightly less than 25 percent were included where important management relationships were known to be associated with the interests. Beginning in 1962, all ownership interests by a single U.S. investor of 10-25 percent were also included in direct investment. In 1970-71, the only two publicly held affiliates of significance were dropped from the direct investment universe because the 50-percent criterion was no longer met. Since then, that criterion has not been used in defining direct investment.

Coverage of fees and royalties

Fees and royalties for 1950-65 differ from those for 1966-76 in that the former exclude, whereas the latter include, film and television tape rentals. For 1950-59, direct investment film rentals were included, together with rentals from unaffiliated foreigners, in a single line item in the U.S. international transactions accounts, and no separate estimates of the direct investment portion are available. For 1960-65, separate estimates are available, but not at the level of country detail shown in the accompanying tables. For all countries combined, direct investment fees and royalties, including film and television tape rentals for 1960-65 shown in the U.S. international transactions accounts as "fees and royalties from affiliated foreigners," are:

1960 -	$590	million
1961 -	662	million
1962 -	800	million
1963 -	890	million
1964 -	1,013	million
1965 -	1,199	million

5. See U.S. Direct Investment Abroad, 1966: Final Data.

General Notes to Tables

- o Industry classification is by industry of foreign affiliate.
- o Detail may not add to totals because of rounding.
- o An amount between -$500 thousand and +$500 thousand is indicated by an asterisk (*).
- o A "(D)" indicates that the data in the cell have been suppressed to avoid disclosure of data in that cell, or another cell, for a specific person.

Footnotes to Tables

1. Detail not available for manufacturing subindustries for the years 1950-65.
2. Detail not available for finance and insurance for the years 1950-65; data for this industry are included in "other industries" for those years.
3. Detail not available for the Bahamas for the years 1950-65 or for Bermuda for the years 1950-56; data for these countries are included in "other" Other Western Hemisphere for those years.
4. Data for Okinawa are included in Japan for 1972-76.
5. Data for the European Economic Community (6) are included as an addendum for the years 1966-73; data for the European Communities (9) are shown for all years.
